Prepare Now for Higher Winter Bills

Bill increases for essentials like energy - on top of every other rising cost - are difficult.

Please do what you can to prepare now for significantly higher gas and electric bills this winter.

- Residential gas customers will have winter bills about 32% more than last winter.
- Residential NYC electric customers will have winter bills about 22% more.
- Residential Westchester electric customers will have winter bills about 27% more.
- Small commercial customers will have winter bills about 23% more.
- Large commercial customers will have winter bills about 28% more.

To learn more about these increases, visit www.conEd.com/UnderstandYourRate

We recognize our part in keeping bills as low as possible and our responsibility to deliver reliable energy even in extreme weather and as energy market prices surge. Managing costs to ease the burden on you is our priority. Here are tips that may help you.

Ways to Manage High Bills Now (Go to www.coned.com/billhelp for more info).

- A Level Payment Plan spreads payments evenly across the year to avoid large month-to-month changes.
- A flexible payment agreement can help you pay down an outstanding balance in manageable, monthly installments.
- If you are enrolled in government assistance programs (i.e. SNAP or Medicaid), you may be eligible for discounts through our Energy Affordability Program.
- Become more energy efficient through our Marketplace rebates and savings.
- Register for My Account and for an in-depth look at your hourly energy use. And use our Home Energy Analysis tool for personalized tips and suggestions to help you improve efficiency and control costs.
- You could save money by switching to our Time-of-Use rate option and limiting your energy use during peak-hours. Learn more at www.conEd.com/TOU
- Choose your energy supplier. Other Energy Suppliers (ESCOs) charge customers a different rate for supply than Con Edison. Find out more at PowerYourWay.com.
